

There is no paradise

Text S-E Fernaeus & musik Edvard Skogman

1. You heard about Tom Dooley about the song they sang
all about that Grayson,
the oak tree where he hanged.

Some were all against him,
some were on his side.
That's the way it was on the day Tom Dooley died.

But I believe that we will never know
All about his dying and where his soul did go.
Wherever he was heading is hard for me to tell.
But there is no place like heaven,
and there is no place like hell.

2. You heard of John and Yoko laying in their bed
of all the photos taken
when all these words were said:

"Imagine there's no heaven"
He told us in that song.
It's time for confirmation and to imagine is no wrong.

I believe, it's time for me to tell
to know about this issue can only serve us
well.
Wherever you may live, wherever you may
dwell:
There is no place like heaven,
And there is no place like hell.

3. We heard about dictators
all around the globe,
Lenin, Hitler, Mao,
Khomeini in his robe.

All about the power
they ultimately sought,
and all about the suffering
these evil people brought.

Now I believe, it's time for us to know wherever you may travel, wherever you may go.
If you meet an IS-soldier
with hatred in his eyes, (tell him)
there's no place like heaven,
and there is no paradise.
